Amie Plante

Jewelry artist Amie Louise Plante is a Rhode Island native who allows her local surroundings to influence her creative work. These include the colors and forms in her garden, the movements and inhabitants of the oceanfront near her home, historical architecture, objects and jewelry. Amie discovered her passion for art and nature at an early age. She earned degrees in jewelry from Rhode Island School of Design, and UMass Dartmouth. In 2003, Amie launched her company, specializing in fine-art jewelry, design and education. Her workshop, ALPHA Studio, is located in Cranston's historic Pawtuxet Village. for more information visit www.amieplante.com.
