

South County Art Association Instructor

Ann E. Bianchi

Painting has been my magical journey. For over 50 years I've created works for family and acquaintances. My wonderful husband and two adult sons have always been an inspiration to me as I create with oil and acrylic paints and fiber arts. My fondest joys are to provide opportunities for others to grow in the arts. I'm delighted to share with others the skills I have learned from my professional career as a high school art instructor.

My favorite subjects encompass journeys, such as winding paths and roads, New England stone walls, and garden archways to name a few. Artmaking is a type of storytelling which invites viewers to become active participants. I enjoy entering my work in shows where it reaches the public. My work has been collected by private owners nationwide and those requesting commissions.

As a juried member of art associations, I've had the pleasure of participating in many events, shows, and publications. Please enjoy a visual tour of my work by visiting my website: annebianchi.com.

Creatively Yours,
